TELEPHONE CONNECTION WITH SOLDIERS AT CAMP

Northwestern Telephone Company with Approval of War Department Has Arranged For

Long Distance Telephone Service for the Public to and From the Camp Where Soldiers are Stationed

There are a great number of people in Crow Wing county, as well as all other counties in the state, who have sons, relatives or friends who are now a part of the great national army. Since the delegation who left this county are stationed at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa, it will be of special interest to know that these men may now be easily reached by long distance telephone.

For the information of those who may wish to communicate by telephone with anyone engaged in military service at Camp Dodge, at Des Moines, Iowa, the Northwestern Telephone Company announces that it has, with the approval of the War Department, arranged to provide long distance telephone service for the public to and from the camp.

How to reach anyone at the cantonment by telephone is outlined in the following statement:

That the public may be able to reach Camp Dodge by telephone and that means of rapid communication may be provided for the government between that cantonment and training camps, supply depots, arsenals and military headquarters located elsewhere, the Bell Telephone System has installed a complete telephone exchange at Camp Dodge about size of the Brainerd exchange, and linked it to its many exchanges in all parts of the United States.

For the public to procure the most efficient telephone service to Camp Dodge, it will be advisable in making the call to ask for "Camp Dodge, at Des Moines, Iowa," giving the operator full information as to the rank of the person called and the company or battery and regiment to which he may be assigned.

For example, if telephone call is made for "Private John Smith, 'B' Company, 315th Infantry," or for "Lieutenant Frank Jones, 'C' Battery, 302nd Artillery," the calling party will be able to get the person wanted with the least delay, as each man is identified by his rank, company or battery and regiment. It is suggested that this information be procured as soon as possible after the men reach camp, so that telephone calls may be made if desired.

Each company or battery will be assigned to certain barracks in the camp, in each of which a telephone will be located. Telephone operators at the cantonment, having information as to the company and regiment to which a man belongs, will be able to reach the barracks' telephone promptly.

During hours of drill or other military pursuits it is highly improbable that men can be called from these duties to answer or make telephone calls, but appointments may be made for them to call when at liberty.

BIGGEST AIR RAID MADE ON LONDON

Germans Attempt to Attack City
With Four Groups of Hostile Aircraft.

MEET STRONG DEFENSE

"Roar of Battle Longer and Louder
Than at Any Time During War
—No Report of Casualties Received."

London, Oct. 2.—Four groups of hostile machines attempted the strongest air attack yet made on London and the east coast towns. Some of the machines got through to London and bombarded the southwestern district. A terrific barrage was sent up from the defense guns and the roar of battle lasted intermittently for two and a half hours.

The Germans bombed coast towns as they passed over and proceeded toward London. Two of the groups succeeded in getting a number of machines through the sky barrage. Numerous bombs were dropped on the southwestern district, which is thickly populated with the homes of the upper and middle classes.

The fire from the defending guns was longer and louder than ever before. A rain of shrapnel fell in all sections of the town and the streets were virtually deserted save for a few police.

Report of Field Marshal.
Field Marshal French, commander-in-chief of the home forces, issued the following report dealing with the raid:

"A group of hostile aircraft crossed the Essex coast at 7 o'clock and proceeded across Essex toward London.

"This group of machines was followed at about a quarter of an hour's interval by a second group, which pursued the same course.

"First attack on London was delivered from the northeast about 7:45 p. m. Most of the raiders were turned back, but one or more of the machines penetrated the defenses and dropped bombs in the southwestern district.

"About 8:15 p. m. the second group of raiders attempted to cross the defenses at various points in Northeast and North London, but without success until shortly after 9 o'clock, when a few of the machines passed across London and bombs were again dropped in the southwestern district.

"Did Not Get Far.
"Meanwhile a third group of raiders crossed the Kentish coast and dropped bombs at various places. This group did not penetrate very far west.
"A fourth group of enemy machines crossed the Essex coast at 8:50 p. m. and proceeded toward London, which was approached shortly before 10 o'clock. They did not penetrate farther than the eastern outskirts of London, where some bombs were reported to have been dropped.
"No reports of casualties or damage have yet been received."

One of "willful few" whose expulsion for sedition is urged.

The executive committee of the American Defense society has urged, in an open letter to the governors of the United States, that "steps should be taken at once to rid the senate of those men who, by their seditious utterances, are giving aid and comfort to the enemy." Senators Stone, Reed, La Follette, Gore, Grenna, Vardaman and Hardwick are named.

German Menace Now Aimed at Americans New Submarine Base

(By United Press)
New York, Oct. 2.—The German submarine menace is now being concentrated against the American military supply ships and a new German submarine base has probably been established off the French coast in the American transport lane. There is no real decrease in the total of the allied submarine sinkings. This is the interpretation of the submarine situation by Lord Northcliffe.

America's Aid Likely to Help Sea Offensive

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 2.—With the aid of America the allies are likely to take the sea offensive next year is the deduction drawn in expert headquarters here as a result of the allied military operations. With England striking at the rail arteries leading to Germany's submarine bases such an offensive could be used in telling fashion.

Picked Force of Germans is Driven Back

(By United Press)
London, Oct. 2.—The violent counter attacks by the great picked forces of the German troops against the British along the Ypres section were all repulsed, Gen. Haig reports, the enemy suffering heavy losses. It is predicted that another big British drive is impending. Five blows struck in the night around the men in the road all failed under machine gun fire excepting one advance which swept over two small advanced positions.

Greatest Hero of War May Be Lost

Captain George Guynemer, greatest individual hero the war has yet produced among the allies, who has brought down some eighty enemy planes, is gone. The official count credits Captain Guynemer with having brought down fifty-three German machines, but only those which fell within the French lines were counted. He brought down many more which fell within the German lines.

Ten Killed 30 Injured London Raid

(By United Press)
London, Oct. 2.—Ten were killed and 30 injured is the toll left behind the German air raiders in the sixth raid in eight days according to an official statement, which brings the total list of British victims from air raids since Sept. 24 up to 51 killed and 249 wounded, the raid of last night being less damaging than the previous ones but in point of gun fire the latest raid was the biggest that London has ever seen. Lord French declares that not a single British airplane has been lost in the recent engagements where the British airmen fought the invaders. The public is demanding a British raid in reprisal.

Pope Seeks Support for His Peace Plans From Common People

(By United Press)
London, Oct. 2.—The pope is evidently seeking support for his peace plans from the people of the belligerent countries since the appeals to the rulers appears to be ineffective, and the direct approval by the Holy Father of certain socialist aims is attributed to him in two statements. The greatest significance is attached to an editorial in the Rome newspapers which was believed to have been inspired by the pope in an agreement with the socialists in Italy and elsewhere insofar as they seek to safeguard the democratic liberty and protect individual rights. The pope is reported as expressing sympathy with Russian democracy.

COAL COMING TO NORTHWEST

Shipments to Canada Stopped to Supply Needs Here.

Minneapolis, Oct. 2.—In order to divert coal from Canada to meet the fuel shortage in the Northwest, Dr. H. A. Garfield, fuel administrator, ordered that all shipments of coal into Canada from American lake ports be stopped, according to special dispatches from Washington.

This order followed the unexpected appearance in Washington of W. H. Groverman of the coal dock associations, and a conference which followed between Senator Kellogg and Dr. Garfield.

The situation as reported by Mr. Groverman is regarded as serious. He maintained that of the quota of 17,000,000 tons of coal that should have been delivered at American lake ports for consumption this winter in the Northwest, only 6,000,000 had been delivered, while the remainder had gone into Canada.

STUTTGART HIT BY FRENCHMEN

TURKS GET BEATING

British Obtain Stronger Hold On Bagdad
By Notable Victory In Mesopotamia — 1,000 Prisoners Taken.

Paris, Oct. 2.—It is officially announced that French airmen have successfully bombed the German city of Stuttgart.

Two French machines dropped the explosives over Stuttgart, the official announcement said. The raid occurred Saturday evening. It was in reprisal for German bombardments around Barle Duce.

Stuttgart is the capital of the kingdom of Wurttemberg and is located 90 miles west of Munich. It is at least 132 miles from the nearest part of the French battle line in the Vosges.

Stuttgart is a city of nearly 200,000 population, about 100 miles from the French border.

Nine Killed In London Raid.
London, Oct. 2.—Although nine persons were killed and 42 injured in last night's air raid over England—the fifth within a week—defenders brought down one hostile machine at Dover, and London is absolutely untroubled today. The official statement of casualties today showed that the raids are losing efficiency, even in murdering civilians.

The last sky engagement furnished the most amazing exhibition of deadly fireworks London has ever seen. Despite a misty morn, efforts to trace the course of the battle across the heavens by following the sound of the airplane engines and the shell bursts were sometimes partially successful.

The German machines seemed to turn and twist, quickly alternating their courses when the British guns planted shells too close for the nerves of their pilots.

1,000 Turks Taken.
London, Oct. 2.—A stronger hold has been obtained by the British on Bagdad through the capture from the Turks of the main Ottoman position in the region of Remade. The Ottoman general, Ahmed Bey, his staff and several thousand men were taken prisoner and a large quantity of guns and ammunition was captured.

The most telling blow at Turkish morale that has been dealt since the British capture of Bagdad, was the official view today of General Maude's latest success in Mesopotamia. British troops now occupy Mushaid ridge after a notable victory in two days of fighting during which a Turkish commanding general was captured and vast stores of supplies and food taken.

U. S. to Dictate Peace Terms for Kaiser Says British Former Official

London, Oct. 2.—In discussing the entry of the United States into the war Viscount Gray, former foreign secretary, in a preface to a collection of war statements by President Wilson, published in a pamphlet here, declares it now is clear that the military and naval success of Germany in Europe could not secure a German peace. Viscount Gray's remarks are printed by the Daily News.

"Germany," he says, "can not get peace except on conditions that the United States may consider essential to its own interests and to the future peace and freedom of the world. It is impossible to get around this fact, and it is not surprising that Germany dare not face it and turns her back upon it that she may not face it, for that is what the organized silence and contempt in Germany of the action in the United States really means."

Headquarters refused to issue a definite statement on the sales but stated they ran so high the predictions were thoroughly justified.

HOLLAND WON FROM THE SEA

First Sight of Great Dikes Amazing, Even to One Who Has Read All About the System.

Everyone who visits Holland, of course, goes there knowing full well that this is a land won from the sea, that the Dutch have built them a country by raising dikes and pumping the water out of the inclosed lowlands; but the first actual sight of the dike system and of what it actually means to win a country from the sea comes with as fresh an effect of surprise and amazement as though one had never heard the tale before.

Holland today is a quiet little checkerboard of a flat country, fertile, quiet and prosperous, dotted with thriving cities, gridironed with roads and canals. Old Holland, if we can believe what the historians tell us, was one of the worst wildernesses in the world—a country of huge and angry lakes, of endless dismal swamps, of league on league of dense, impenetrable forest. Here and there a bit of that old forest has been preserved, as at The Hague, and the public look on it as an historical relic. Even in the time of King Philip II the country was such that that pious monarch called it the nearest thing to hell that was to be found on earth. Today it is pre-eminent for fertility, prosperity and peace. The change was wrought by one thing—dikes.

In the old school readers there was a standard tale of a noble little Dutch boy who saved his province from disaster. He observed a tiny leak in one of the dikes and, thrusting his finger into it, he sat down and kept it plugged until help arrived, in spite of considerable discomfort from a cramp in the arm. This is a pretty tale, but one which first-hand observation of the dikes leads the visitor to regard with some skepticism. It reminds one of a small boy who would prop up the Washington monument if it began to fall. The enormous mass of the dikes is something hard to realize. There is one nine miles long that reaches down with solid granite 200 feet below the surface of the sea. In another province the dikes run for 300 miles. There is a single dike which was installed at such expense that it is said the great mass of stone could be duplicated in solid copper for the money it took to erect it. Holland is like a fortress eternally beleaguered by the sea and the price of her safety is eternal vigilance.

Perfectly Simple.

"Everyone goes to sleep during his sermons." "I don't." "How ever do you stay awake?" "Don't go to church."

What He Prosecuted.

"He never had but one genuine case in his life," said a lawyer of a rival, "and that was when he prosecuted his studies."

Man Tries to Improve Things.

Nature never intended that man should take three days to recover from one day off. That is his own idea.—Toledo Blade.

WHEN you trim your outfit down to military bedrock, W-B Cut Chewing scores a bull's-eye. A soldier gets more from his pouch of W-B than from a bulky ordinary plug—rich leaf plump full of sap, all tobacco satisfaction, every shred of it. And the water-proof pouch keeps it clean and fresh in the pocket of his khaki.

WOMAN'S REALM

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY MEETS

This Organization is the Official Organ of Both State and National Governments

The meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary Public Safety Commission took place yesterday afternoon at two thirty at the Chamber of Commerce. It was attended by delegates from the following organizations: Presbyterian Aid, Evangelical Aid, Royal Neighbors, Ladies of the Grand Army, Rebecca Lodge, Degree of Honor, W. B. A. Maccabees, and several delegates at large. The Woman's Auxiliary is the official organ of both state and national governments to try to correlate and unify the service of the women of the state. This is to be done through organizations already existing as far as possible. A notice of this meeting was sent to every church aid and lodge in the city inviting the attendance of the presiding officer and two delegates. It is the patriotic duty of every woman's organization in Brainerd to be represented at the local Woman's Auxiliary council. Matters will be taken up at the meetings which pertain to the welfare of our nation not only during war but as a preparation for peace, and in which the men at the head of our National Council of Defense desire the co-operation of the women. Any woman's organization which has been invited will notify the secretary, Mrs. F. H. Simpson, 409 4th St. N., N. W. Tel. 180-L.

The booklet, "Friend or Enemy," was briefly reviewed. This book is written for the men of the army and navy by M. J. Exner, M. D., secretary International Committee of Young Men's Christian Association. Nearly every woman present ordered a copy at five cents apiece.

It was proposed to hold a demonstration in the preparation of sour kraut. A committee was appointed to determine time and place. Details of this interesting demonstration will be announced later.

It was decided to accept the offer of the state to send us a five-day Short Course in liberty breads and meat substitutes. A committee was appointed to determine upon a place to hold the demonstrations.

Copies of a leaflet, "A Woman's Chance," were distributed. This leaflet is issued by Miss Annie Shelland, state chairman of the Committee on Education in Patriotism. Miss Shelland is well known in state educational circles.

Mrs. L. P. Hall, county chairman, was present, having brought the registration blanks. Mrs. Hall gave some of the latest news from headquarters. It was decided to wait and hand out the registration cards at the next meeting, when an attendance more widely representative is expected.

The subject of a cook sale was referred to the Conservation Committee.

NORMA TALMADGE

Excels in Role of "Moth" in Society Play of That Name Shown at the "Best"

Norma Talmadge stars in the title role of the film play of that name shown at the "Best" theatre and crowded houses Monday evening were the rule. Tuesday night is the last opportunity to see a society play which has made Miss Talmadge famous in the world of pictures.

As "Lucy Gilliam," from 17 to her marriage, cheated out of the joys of girlhood, to her trials with her husband and the subsequent tangles in the social world, Miss Talmadge is an adorable heroine who manages to extricate herself from dangerous situations and unlike the usual blind moth, saves herself from the fate of the flames and eventually finds happiness.

Her husband is brought home "ill" and she remarks: "He certainly has a nice lot of friends to bring him home when he is ill."

A change of heart results later and she courts the presence of her children. At first they shrink from her and cry and the nurse said: "They are afraid of strangers."

A house party nearly terminates in a scene and is only saved by the tact of Lucy who lays down the law to her husband. As is usual in some layers of society, the marital bonds are lightly worn.

HOW TO TELL THE RANK OF OFFICERS

Washington. — All commissioned officers wear a black and gold hat cord. On the collar of his shirt a second lieutenant wears a bronze ornament—for the infantry crossed rifles with the number of his regiment in the upper angle; for cavalry, crossed sabers; field artillery, crossed cannon; coast artillery, a shell on the crossed cannon; engineer corps, a turreted castle; signal corps, crossed flags with a flaming torch; medical corps, a wand entwined by two serpents; quartermaster corps, gold key crossed with sword and surmounted by a wheel and eagle; ordnance, a bursting shell. He will also wear one-quarter-inch stripe around his cuff.

A first lieutenant will wear the same insignia and in addition one single silver bar on each side of his collar. On his overcoat he wears a single scroll of narrow black braid.

A captain wears two silver bars and a double scroll of braid.

A major wears the same insignia with a gold oak leaf on his shoulders and three scrolls of braid. A lieutenant colonel wears a silver oak leaf and four scrolls of braid; a colonel, a silver spread eagle and five scrolls of braid.

The noncommissioned officers wear chevrons above the elbow to denote their rank: a corporal, two chevrons; sergeant, three; first sergeant, three, with a diamond or lozenge in the center.

New Window Glass.

An English inventor has perfected a new window glass to keep out cold in winter and heat in summer. The new glass is based on the well-known principle that any gas is a poor conductor of heat or cold. The ideal window glass to resist heat or cold would be a double pane, with a vacuum between, as in a thermos bottle. But the vacuum makes the glass so easily breakable that this is not practical. So the inventor has designed a double pane, with a space between the halves, smoothly welded at all the edges. The space within is pumped full of carbon dioxide or some similar inert gas. If the pressure of the gas within is equal to the air pressure without the pane is no more breakable than an ordinary one, and it resists the passage of heat or cold much longer.

A Gloomy Future.

"This raising of the price of bread by the bakers strikes me something fierce!" "Oh, I guess you can stand it." "Yes, I know. But I was talking to my wife about it this morning, and she said to never mind; she would bake our own bread hereafter!"—Browning's Magazine.

BIRD BURNS FARMER'S BARN

Flies With Blazing Twig Into the Hay Loft and Blaze Causes Considerable Damage.

Middle River, Minn. — Fire destroyed the barn of William Huff, a farmer living nine miles south of here. Mr. Huff declared that the fire was caused by a bird which carried a twig, one end of which was aglow, into the hay loft.

Not far from the barn a brush fire was burning. The nesting bird carried a twig which had been burning in the brush fire, but which was thought to have blown away from the immediate vicinity of the fire, to the barn.

Mr. Huff, who was working in the barnyard, said he thought he saw a slight trail of smoke as the bird flew past him, but did not investigate. In a few moments the barn was afire. Two valuable horses were burned and the building destroyed.

BRITISH STOP TEUTON ATTACK

Two Advances Checked With Great Loss to Enemy.

London, Oct. 2.—Again the Germans have delivered violent attacks against the British troops in their newly won positions in the vicinity of the Ypres-Menin road and the Polygon wood. Two separate onslaughts were made, three hours apart and both with huge effectiveness moving in wave formations. Everywhere the attacks were repulsed with heavy casualties, except opposite the southeast corner of the Polygon wood where two British advance posts were captured.

Along both sides of the Meuse in the Verdun sector the French and the Germans are engaged in another terrific duel. Twice the Germans launched infantry attacks but both were stopped short by the French fire.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 600 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

MUST DON WAR ARMOR

U. S. Merchant Vessels Given New Set of Instructions.

Regulations Relative to Armament,
Fuel, Painting and Smoke Screens Issued.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The treasury department has issued new regulations relative to armament, fuel and smoke screens, and painting to obtain invisibility, which have been adopted as a part of the plans of this country and the Allies for dealing with the German submarine menace, and beginning at once every vessel leaving the United States for European and Mediterranean ports will have to obey these regulations.

The vessels must be armed in accordance with recommendations of the navy department. The bureau of war risk insurance will charge an additional rate of 1 per cent on each voyage of vessels failing to comply with this requirement.

Each vessel must be painted in accordance with one of the systems that are recommended by the ship protection committee of the emergency fleet corporation.

Must Have Smokeless Fuel.

Each steamer at time of sailing from the United States must carry a sufficient supply of approved smokeless fuel to carry her for not less than two daylight periods, this coal to be used during the daylight runs while within the submarine zone. Steamers equipped with an approved system whereby the vessel may be operated without the emission of visible smoke from her stacks, are relieved from the requirement.

All vessels must carry on deck one dozen approved smoke boxes, which will evolve smoke when thrown overboard thereby increasing the vessel's chance of escaping behind the wall of smoke.

Railroad men made an investigation and found that 34 air hoses, all on refrigerator cars, had been cut.

TO DISCUSS DISMISSED

Stone and Gronna Also Included in Petitions to Body Asking Expulsion of the Wisconsin Solon.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Petitions demanding the ousting of Senators La Follette, Stone and Gronna will be considered at once by the senate committee on privileges and elections, to which they have been referred.

This announcement was made by Chairman Atlee Pomerene.

Vice President T. R. Marshall laid a number of additional petitions demanding La Follette's expulsion before the senate. Among them was a letter from W. E. D. Stokes, New York. He said:

"Our citizens demand an immediate secret investigation by patriotic committees of the senate and house of charges of treason so widely circulated against Senators La Follette, Stone and Gronna, and against Congressmen Britten, Mosan, Baer and others.

Shooting Advised for Guilty.

"If they are guilty of disloyalty," he urged it be so announced "through the length and breadth of our country." If any are guilty, "let the guilty be shot at once, without an hour's delay. We need a few public examples. It means saving good, loyal lives.

"If something of this kind is not done at once, we are to wake up some morning and find some patriotic men, moved by impulse, have shot these men who disgraced the senate and congress. The whole country will rise as a man and acquit them—but this will only be the beginning of lawless acts and the blame will be laid at your door—so act at once."

Death Penalty Advocated.

U. S. Grant post, 372, G. A. R., Brooklyn, demanded immediate action to end disloyalty and to "warn all people living under the protection of our flag to refrain from disloyalty on pain of suffering the penalties of treason."

Why We Fight.)

In previous sections of this course army life and service have been described without special reference to the changes brought about by the present war. There are important changes, and methods of training and of fighting used in previous wars must, of course, be modified accordingly.

The extent of these changes, however, is often exaggerated. At bottom the qualities that make a good soldier or an efficient army remain the same today that they were before the war. The changes that affect the individual soldier have to do chiefly with weapons.

But behind every weapon there is a man. If the weapon is to be used effectively, the man must be well trained, disciplined, cool, and brave. He must have spirit, tenacity and self-reliance. The big problem now, just as in all other wars, is to develop these qualities—and the other soldierly qualities—to their highest extent. The chief difference probably comes in the fact that self-reliance is a bigger factor than in most previous wars. And in American armies this quality has always been highly valued and well developed.

This brief lesson can not, of course, enter into a discussion of technical questions which belong in the field of military science. It will simply point out a few of the striking features of direct interest to every man who reaches the front.

Character of Present War

This war differs from previous wars chiefly in the enormous increase in the use of artillery. This is due partly to the immense manufacturing resources of the countries at war, which enables them to produce great numbers of guns and great quantities of ammunition. It is due also to the new methods of directing gun fire from airplanes. It is evident that a gun can not be accurately aimed at an object the exact location of which is unknown. The airplane, however, is able to bring back or signal back this information, so that the artillery may now be used with much greater effect. The size of the guns and the force of the explosive shells fired from them have also been largely increased.

Partly as a result of these improvements in artillery, it has been necessary to develop better methods of protection. The protection of troops consists of digging stronger field entrenchments than have been necessary in previous wars. Here we have the main reason for the so-called "trench warfare," which during the last three years has largely taken the place of former methods of moving armies about freely until they came into conflict with each other. Digging trenches and throwing up breastworks for protection against the enemy's fire is, of course, not a new thing in warfare. It is being done in Europe, however, on a much bigger scale than ever before. A complicated network of trenches now protects the men on both sides. The spade has become one of the soldier's best weapons of defense.

In seeking protection against heavy artillery fire a very interesting development has taken place. This is the use of various devices for concealing field guns and troops from view of enemy airplanes. Sometimes trees are brought up and planted near war is the proof that has been given of courage and devotion to duty on the part of men of all nations. As soldiers we must recognize also the skill and courage of the enemy, even though they are shown in a bad cause. Nothing is gained by belittling the enemy. It is our place rather to see to it that we develop among ourselves a still higher degree of the intelligence, spirit, tenacity, and self-reliance which alone can win victories.

The war in Europe has brought forth changes and improvements, such as those just described, to which the soldiers of the National Army must quickly adjust themselves; but it has not changed in the least the qualities of body, mind, and heart which in the long run are always the greatest of all factors in warfare.

MAY QUIT IN FEW DAYS

Adjournment of Congress By End of Week Not Unlikely.

Charges Against La Follette May Delay Termination of Special Session.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The conference report on the war tax bill was adopted by the house without a roll call. It will be taken up in the senate at once.

Washington, Oct. 2.—It is the expectation of leaders in congress to complete the legislative program this week.

They plan to adjourn Friday or Saturday, but may be disappointed if any determined opposition to the soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill develops after it is reported to the senate from the finance committee.

The important matters pending before congress are:

The conference report on the war revenue bill carrying more than $2,700,000,000.

The soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill which has passed the house and is now being considered by the finance committee of the senate.

The urgent deficiency bill carrying approximately $8,000,000,000 in appropriations and authorizations for the present fiscal year. This is in conference.

The Webb exports bill to allow combinations in foreign territory.

In addition there are the following matters which can either be dropped without much ado or taken up and made into sensational matters:

The resolution by the Minnesota commission of public safety demanding the expulsion of Senator R. M. La Follette of Wisconsin for disloyal and seditious utterances and the Heflin-Norton feud growing out of the expose of the Bernstorff request for $50,000 to influence congress.

U. S. COAST GUARD SHIP SUNK

Rammed by Vessel Whose Identity Is Not Announced.

Washington, Oct. 2.—A coast guard vessel on patrol duty off an Atlantic port was rammed and sunk, the navy department is advised. The name of the vessel ramming the patrol boat has not been announced.

Every effort is being made to ascertain the identity of the ship which crashed into the patrol boat.

The incident was officially announced as follows:

"A coast guard vessel on patrol duty off an Atlantic port was rammed and sunk by an unknown ship early today. The work of raising the sunken vessel will be begun at once."

PREDICTS PEACE BY SPRING

J. Ogden Armour Sees Hope In Speeches of Europeans.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—J. Ogden Armour, packer, predicts the war would be over by spring.

"Political leaders abroad are talking and thinking peace and one can read it in the speeches of statesmen of all countries," he said. "That, to me, is a strong indication that peace is near."

Gave Short Weights; Suicides.

Minneapolis, Oct. 2.—Max Junghanns, one of the proprietors of the Central Provision company, Minneapolis, has made good his threat to end his life rather than serve a sentence of 90 days in the workhouse for short weight, and his body, taken from Lake Minnetonka, has been identified by his partner, Paul J. Kurz. The body was found floating in spite of a weight tied to one foot. Junghanns was to have begun serving his workhouse sentence Saturday at the end of a 10 days' stay but failed to appear.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The great harvest of indictments returned at Chicago, it is authoritatively stated is but a fraction of what the government will reap as the result of its nation-wide raid on Industrial Workers of the World offices September 5.

Only those regarded by the government as the chief figures in the alleged conspiracy to thwart the government in its war plans have been indicted. Tons of documents seized in the raid have yet to be studied, their disclosures catalogued and arranged for use in further proceedings.

BRAINERD MINNESOTA

ENROLLMENT FIRST MONTH

Gives a Comparison of the Attendance With That of Last Year in all the City Schools

THE NORMAL TRAINING LIMITED

School Report Gives Interesting Data that Should be Read and Studied by all Parents

The enrollment for the first month of the school year in all the schools enables us to get a comparison in attendance with the enrollment for September of last year. A not unexpected decrease in attendance of eighty pupils is noted and may possibly be accounted for one of several conditions. It is noticeable that the total number of girls enrolled in the schools this year is practically the same as last year. The decrease in enrollment is in boys, as was to be expected. A certain number have enlisted and a considerable number, who in normal times would be in school, on account of the cost of living and the scarcity of labor have found lucrative employment. As fall work is completed and the potato crop gathered, undoubtedly a considerable number of boys will enroll later in the term.

It is more than likely that a larger number of boys than usual, who are under sixteen years of age and who have not completed the eighth grade, are unlawfully out of school and unnecessarily so. We should like to have the names of such cases reported to the office in order that they may be looked up and employers who may be violating the labor laws and school attendance laws duly notified. Attention is called at this time to the state school law on this subject. It is unlawful for any person to employ a child of either sex, under sixteen years of age, while school is in session, unless such child has completed the eighth grade. It frequently happens that a very young appearing boy not more than fourteen or fifteen years of age has completed the eighth grade, been promoted to high school and therefore subject to his parents' wishes as to further school attendance. In fact, if children were regular in school attendance through the grades, the large majority would be through the eighth grade at fourteen or fifteen years of age; and each year is bringing our schools in Brainerd nearer to that condition.

The teaching force in the grades number only six entirely new teachers this year, which is very unusual for Brainerd. Five home girls were offered positions in Brainerd of whom two are now teaching in the Lowell school, two others having accepted positions here and later resigned the same. The outlook for the schools this year from the standpoint of teaching force appears unusually favorable, and a very successful year's work is confidently expected.

The new teachers in the high school are Miss Keene, home economics; Mr. McNow, agriculture; Miss Seymour, music supervisor; Mr. Ashley, commercial; Miss Qualee, Latin; Miss Richardson, English; Miss Neva Schroeder, Junior high and science. The Lowell and the Washington schools are the only schools that have an increased enrollment over that of last year. The most decided decrease in attendance is at the Lincoln school. The enrollment at the Lincoln school for September of 1916 was nearly sixty in excess of the present enrollment. This would seem to indicate that not all the children who belong in school from this section of town have as yet reported.

The Normal Training Department has been limited this year purposely to ten cadets in order to insure a Normal Department for next year when the entrance requirements will be materially advanced.

of the high school has grown by the addition of an extra high school class in advanced wood work, necessitating the employment of a student assistant to help Mr. Kimball with his grade classes.

The schools are trying to do "their bit" this year in aiding the Red Cross organization through the Manual Training and Home Economics Departments. The Manual Training boys will undertake to make the shipping boxes from lumber furnished by the merchants of the city. The sewing classes will very shortly begin sewing in co-operation with the local Red Cross directors. A national movement is already on foot throughout the country to organize the schools, generally, into a Junior Red Cross movement and thereby interest all the children in this patriotic endeavor.

Last Friday, Miss Keene, of the Home Economics Department, represented our local school at a Food Conservation meeting held at St. Cloud, called by the State Department of Education and the State School of Agriculture in an effort to unify instruction and information concerning food conservation throughout the state. Three interesting and profitable sessions were held under the direction of a representative from Washington, D. C., and one from the State School of Agriculture. The object of the conference in particular was to have representatives from the several schools present to receive definite instructions as to the most practicable means of food conservation in the home. The instructors were asked to impart this information to the girls in their department and to illustrate the same during the year. The girls, in turn, are to carry the information to the homes, and it is hoped that each home may contribute its share in conserving food, especially flour and meats. A more extended report in detail as to the recommendations of the conference will be published later by the Home Economics teachers, Miss Sheldon and Miss Keene.

The drinking fountain and large pictures donated by the class of 1917 to the value of $175.00 are now on hand and will soon be installed in the Senior room. At the beginning of the school year, we wish to again call the attention of parents and all good citizens to the tobacco evil among children whether in high school or grades and to ask their co-operation in eliminating the same. The State Law is very definite concerning the purchase or sale of tobacco with reference to children attending school and to its use by any students, grade or high school, under twenty-one years of age, except in their own homes with their parents' consent. Few students, either in grades or in high school, who have formed the "tobacco habit" do satisfactory work and a majority fail to do even passing work. The state athletic rules forbid any pupil using tobacco on engaging in any of the inter-school athletic contests. We solicit the co-operation of parents, city officers and good citizens, generally, in checking the tobacco evil among school children.

There are several events of interest to tabernacle goers this week. The first is the sermon tonight by Dr. Bromley upon a theme which will be of great interest to all. After the remarkable meetings of Sunday it is anticipated that there will be a large crowd tonight. The moon is shining full and that is going to prove a great help for people who need lots of light.

Wednesday night is "state" night and there will be a show of hands as to what state you were born in. Sections of the tabernacle will be marked off for the different states and no doubt there will be some good natured rivalry in seeing just who has the largest delegation.

Sunday evening there was a show of hands and some people were found who hailed from Kentucky along with the evangelist and some way they seemed proud to testify to that fact. Some Pennsylvanians were there too though they didn't seem quite so proud of it but the Minnesotans outnumbered all the rest by a great majority. Come around Wednesday and show your state colors. Even if you are from Missouri you'll be shown a good welcome.

Wednesday afternoon the boys and girls chorus will meet under the leadership of Charlie Wicand, "Uncle Charley" as the boys say. And by the way, it is too bad that no word of appreciation was written for the meeting of boys and girls that was held Sunday afternoon in the Bethlehem Lutheran church. Four hundred and fifty lads and lassies were there and they had a rousing good time. "It was just great," so all said, and now these children are to be organized into a great booster chorus and will sing some night at the tabernacle and then the other chorus of older people will have to sit in the audience and be just common people.

The boys and girls of town have awakened to the fact sooner than the older folks that the biggest thing that ever struck Brainerd is now right here in our midst. And they have awakened to the realization that the evangelist company is a company of downright, sincere, christian artists every member an artist in his particular line, and that everyone of them is working for the best welfare of all the people of the whole town. "A little child shall lead them," is a declaration fulfilled right here today.

Friday night is Sunday school night and it gives promise of things new under the sun. The old world is turning a critical corner at the present time and is liable to skid and fall into the ditch. If the Sunday schools were multiplied and manned by christian teachers with common sense the world would be spared its inevitable tumble.

The regular afternoon services at 2:30 o'clock conducted by Miss Cain are open to every person. These afternoon services give an opportunity for those who cannot get out at night to have a part in this great religious awakening. Thousands of people are going a long way from home to various centers to attend the schools of Bible study. They pay railroad fare, board, room and tuition for this privilege and here, right here, is a school for such study at our very doors led by a woman as consecrated and competent as any, and scores of intelligent folks who really would like to know something about the bible are passing it by. Before some wake up this chance will be taken away and only then will they know what was missed. In some cities Miss Cain has had four and five hundred people present at these afternoon bible study lectures. Read the book of Philipians and come.

COUNCIL MEETING

Mayor Appoints Patrolman and Night Captain, Both are Confirmed by the Council

The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held in the council chambers last night.

The clerk made his monthly report of receipts and disbursements. The total receipts which includes the county treasurer's June settlement was $26,812.75. The total disbursements were $16,611.91, of this $8,750 was paid to the paving contractor.

A petition for a lateral sewer for blocks 20 and 21, Sleeper's addition, was referred to the city engineer for report.

The mayor's appointments were received. A. P. Nordstrom was recommended for patrolman and Albert Scott for night captain. Owing to the resignation of Mrs. B. J. Broady, Rev. H. G. Stacy was recommended for the library board. The appointment of Patrolman Nordstrom was left without action as to confirmation.

In the matter of the damage suit against the city on account of the accident at the old railroad bridge, Northeast Brainerd, on state road No. 3, the whole matter was referred to the city attorney.

The clerk was directed to notify the Northwestern Telephone company to remove telephone poles in front of the Rosko Bros. garage and to put them in their proper place.

The matter of repairs to the south side of Front street between Sixth and Seventh was referred to the street committee.

The usual number of monthly bills were allowed and ordered paid.

The council adjourned at 10 o'clock. All members were present with the exception of Alderman Frank Hall.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL CLASS

Elects Officers for the Ensuing Year—Enjoy First Social Event of the Year at Gilbert Lake

The Senior class of the Brainerd high school has elected the following officers for the year:

President—Henry Lagerquist.
Vice President—Lillian Nelson.
Secretary-Treasurer—Nels Molstad.
Ser. at Arms—Wm. Swanson.
Faculty Advisor—Miss Tornstrom.

Last Friday evening the Seniors enjoyed their first social event of the year at Gilbert lake. The class left the high school at four-thirty for Holmes' Lodge. The studious Seniors, used to studying but not to walking, found the long journey quite tedious; but after the picnic supper and wiener roast on the shores of the lake, the party proceeded with much merriment, leaving for home at nine o'clock. They were chaperoned by members of the faculty.

"Alien Souls" at Best Tomorrow

Sessue Hayakawa, the noted Japanese actor who recently created such a furor by his wonderful performance with Fannie Ward in "The Cheat," will be seen at the Best tomorrow as the star in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Alien Souls," a thrilling photodrama written especially for the Paramount Program by Hector Turnbull, author of his previous success. Since his engagement with the Lasky organization, Mr. Hayakawa has been seen only as a member of the company supporting a prominent star, as it was impossible to find a photodrama production exactly suited to his requirements. Finally the famous dramatist, Hector Turnbull, was commissioned to write this play especially for this artist.

At the Empress Tomorrow

William Duncan, athlete, actor and motion picture producer, suffered serious injury during the making of the fourth episode of "The Fighting Trail," Greater Vitagraph serial, which will next be shown at the Empress theatre tomorrow. Mr. Duncan is famous as a wrestler and physical culture expert and in this episode he was called upon to fight seven men. Being the hero, he "stung" several of the big buccaros pretty hard and they went under him. It was a real battle and Duncan had to fight his way out. When it was all over, he found that he had two broken fingers and other bruises. His opponents were nursing various and sundry injuries also.

Do You Neglect Your Machinery?

The machinery of the body needs to be well oiled, kept in good condition just as the automobile, steam engine or bicycle. Why should the human neglect his own machinery more than that of his horse or his engine? Yet most people do neglect themselves. To clean the system at least once a week is to practice preventive measures. You will escape many ills and clear up the coated tongue, the sallow complexion, the dull headache, the lazy liver, if you will take a pleasant laxative made up of the May-apple, the juice of the leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and called Pleasant Pellets. You can obtain at almost any drug store in this country these vegetable pellets in vials for 25c—simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. There can be no counterfeit if they have the Dr. R. V. Pierce stamp upon them.

Minneapolis, Minn.—“It was hard for me to get around on account of feeling run-down. Often when walking I was suddenly attacked with dizzy spells and terrific headaches. My side pained me so much of the time that it was impossible for me to take a deep breath without suffering misery from the pain. I had incessant backache and throbbing pains through the loins. Upon arising in the morning my limbs were so stiff I could hardly get about the house. I was told of Anuric, discovered by Dr. Pierce, so immediately started using it and was soon relieved of the trouble.”—Mrs. May F. Keyes, 1905 St. Anthony Avenue.

St. Paul, Minn.—“When I felt that I should have something to build me up and give me strength, I started taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It seems to be just what I need as I am feeling better than I have for years.”—Mrs. Stella Williams, 161 Pleasant St.

German Rioters Cry for Peace. London, Oct. 2.—A demonstration against the German government at Essen, home of the Krupp works, in consequence of the decision of Chancellor Michaelis not to state Germany's peace terms at present, is reported in a dispatch from Amsterdam. Women formed a majority of the demonstrators, says the dispatch, breaking windows of the town hall and shouting demands for more food, for peace and for the return of their men folk. The police and military were called out to quell the riot.

UNCLE SAM AFTER LYING TRAITORS

TRYING TO CATCH AND PUNISH THOSE WHO SPREAD FALSE STORIES ABOUT WAR.

THEY ARE ALL PRO-GERMANS

Extravagant Rumors Are Circulated Constantly for the Purpose of Injuring the United States and of Aiding Its Enemies.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Apparently the government knows that a large part of the press of the United States is doing what it can to offset the work of the pro-Germans in America and of those who, seemingly loving a lie for the lie's sake, circulate through the communities stories invented apparently for the sole purpose of injuring the cause of this country.

It is said, however, that the government also knows that a certain part of the press lends itself apparently willingly to the spreading of misinformation of the kind which a former president of the United States once described by what he called the “short-and-ugly-word”—lie.

It is certain that if the newspaper men in the city of Washington cared to build stories out of rumors touching this war, they could keep busy writing all day long. Most of them do not care to. If a correspondent here wanted to believe all that he heard he would be sure that peace is coming with Germany within twenty-four hours on this basis or that basis. If he wanted to believe further what he hears he could be quite positive that Russia intends quickly to line itself up with Germany, to supply that country with arms, ammunition and food, and to help it in its war against the United States and the countries allied with it. More than this, if the correspondent wanted to believe what he hears he would feel confident that Italy is going to quit the fight, and finally, if he wanted to believe what he hears one-half of the soldiers who have been sent from this city already are either at the bottom of the sea or in graves in France, the victims of disease.

Trying to Find the Traitors.

The correspondent does not want to believe these things and he does not have to believe them because they are all lies put out by pro-Germans for the purpose of aiding the cause of the enemies of freedom and democracy.

The government is hard at work today trying to find out how to reach the men and women who are spreading lies through the country, the traitors who work in darkness. Uncle Sam's searchlight may be able to find them, but then the puzzle will come as to how to secure their punishment. Free speech is a fetish with the American people and thus far there does not seem to be any way for the authorities to draw a clean line between free speech and free falsehood.

Nevertheless the government today is giving attention to the work of running down the rumor mongers, the plain liars, the hinders of happenings that never happened and others of the sinister pro-German propaganda groups that today are doing what they can to hurt this country and to help its enemy.

It is said to be possible to slay a woman with a word and it seems that the alien enemies and the worse than alien enemies in the United States think that what is possible in the one case is possible in another. The government knows they are sowing seeds of suspicion in every field in the land believing that they will produce the desired crop of poison.

Intention Hard to Prove.

What is the government going to do about it? It is handicapped in a thousand ways. It traces a story which has brought damage to the cause of democracy and finds that the man or the woman responsible for it pleads that it came in tea-table talk and that it was repeated innocently. Premeditated intention to hurt America and help the kaiser is one of the hardest things to prove, and this is known by men and women who invent tales of disaster and schemes to obstruct war preparation.

Recently attention was called in the press to the fact that in parts of the South farmers were refusing to sell eggs even at the highest market price because they had been told “definitely” that the government within a few weeks intended to buy all the eggs in the United States and to pay $1.50 a dozen for them. How many eggs spoiled while they were being held from day to day to secure the advantage of this impossible plan and impossible price nobody knows.

For two weeks the government has been trying to overtake and kill the story that it intends to invade the households of the country and to seize all the provisions which the housewives have glassed and canned against the winter. All through Virginia and through some parts of the middle West men and women carrying some kind of a counterfeit badge of authority spread the story that Uncle Sam was to seize everything that the housewives were laying in store. This was pure enemy propaganda and as the truth has short legs while a lie wears seven league boots, there seems to be no overtaking the fleet-footed. The government today, however, is trying to nail the liars and to jail them.

WANT COMMANDS IN THE NEW ARMY

REGULAR OFFICERS MORE THAN WILLING TO WORK WITH GREEN TROOPS.

LIKE TO SEE THEM DEVELOP

Youth and Euthusiasm Will Make Apt Pupils and Their Association Will Be an Interesting Study in Democracy.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Officers of the regular army of field rank are showing strong desire to be detailed to command battalions or regiments of the new National army. It may be a surprise to a good many people to learn that these officers of the regular service feel that an assignment to command absolutely green troops is one to be preferred.

Why is this? It is not necessary to go far to find the reason. Reports have come to Washington from all parts of the country to show that the new men, even though they be drafted men, are evincing a spirit and an interest in their new work to a far more intense degree than it was thought would be possible. This means that they will be apt pupils, will throw their whole being into the service and will give sympathetic response to the efforts of their teachers.

Regular army officers like to teach. They say there is an intense interest in taking a willing but militarily ignorant force of men and bringing them up to service standards, to watch them day by day develop from the civilian status into that of the soldier.

There is another thing which makes regular army officers hall assignments to commands in the new National army. The men in the drafted service are all young, in fact are virtually about the same age. Youth makes for enthusiasm and, as army officers say, a force of men of which every individual is under thirty-one years of age is bound to be an enthusiastic force, a physically and spiritually strong force, and one upon which, after the days of training are ended, absolute dependence can be placed while in the field.

Do Not Belittle Other Forces.

Now there is no intention of the army officers to belittle the regulars or the National Guardsmen. These troops have proved their worth and so far as the regulars are concerned foreign officers concede the American officers' contention that the little regular army of the United States, little in the past at any rate, is as fine a body of soldiery as the world ever saw.

Men in the regular army and in the National Guard to a considerable extent have learned their lessons, and it is only the recruits who have to be taught, and while there are large numbers of the latter in both the Guards and the regulars today, the teaching of these largely is done by the contact which they have with the enlisted men of their regiments who have been in the service for months or years.

So it will be seen that, as army officers put it, the teaching joy and the pleasure of seeing great bodies of men develop day by day into fighting forces are more or less lost when the officer's service is given to the regulars or to the Guardsmen.

Officials in Washington life interested in various Americanization movements which are being fostered in different parts of the country say that there is no Americanization movement which can equal in its opportunities and in its probable success the drafting process by which a million or two young Americans are to be taken into the ranks of the army to serve their country on the battlefield.

Democracy in the Draft.

Major Gen. William L. Sibert, who commands the First division of American troops in the field in France, said to the writer of this article just before he was ordered to foreign service: “There is no democracy like the democracy of the dog tent.”

Now the dog tent, or as it is sometimes called, the pup tent, is the little shelter tent which soldiers use when camping at night along the way of march. Each tent holds only two men. In the great National army it is entirely likely that the same tent will be occupied by the son of a laborer and the son of a millionaire manufacturer. It is also entirely likely that one may be occupied by a boy of Polish descent and by another boy of English, German or Irish descent. The companionship, army officers say, makes for mutual sympathies and mutual aims. It also levels ranks, or the so-called social ranks of this country.

So it is that today in Washington regular army officers are showing eagerness to be given commands in the new National army, not only because of their teaching desire and their wish to see civilians develop into soldiers, but because of the absorbingly interesting study that there will be in watching the great melting pot of the army fuse these mixtures into one solid block of gold Americanism.

Conserving Tin Cans.

All over the world many uses are found for used five-gallon tin cans. In the Orient, Africa, Latin-America, the West and East Indies, the natives purchase them for innumerable purposes. There are men engaged solely in buying and selling these containers. The tinsmith coverts the containers into all kinds of household utensils—lamps, cook stoves, pots, baking pans, sprinklers, small pumps, plates, measures, drinking cups, rat-traps and buckets. With one face removed and glass substituted therefor the can becomes a display box for grocery stores, or a rice container. Cut diagonally in two it serves as a dust pan. In Latin-American cities it is used by peons to cut grass in parks, being formed into a sort of knife. Used entire it is good for shipping camphor, lime, alcohol and molasses. It makes an excellent flower-pot.

BIGGER SAVINGS

The value of baking powder is based on its leavening strength. You can't judge it by the size of the can—or by the amount you get for your money. You must estimate it by the amount of baking powder used in each baking and the results you get.

is the greatest value ever offered in Baking Powder—it has greater raising “force”—it goes further than most of the other brands. You use only a rounded or heaping teaspoonful where others call for two teaspoonfuls or more.

But Baking Powder is not all you'll save when using Calumet. You save baking materials. Calumet never fails. The last level teaspoonful is as powerful as the first. Calumet is perfectly manufactured—keeps perfectly—and is moderate in price.

You save when you buy it—You save when you use it

One trial will satisfy you of these facts—and demonstrate beyond doubt that “Calumet spells economy.”

Your grocer sells it on a guarantee of money back if you are not pleased with results.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.
